Republican State Chairman Conger Says Foraker Will Win.

THURMAN OPPOSED TO CAMPBELL

He Denies That He Was in Pittsburg After Campaign Boodle.

CHICAGO IS FAVORED FOR THE FAIR Coionel A. L. Conger, of Akron, has been a guest at the Monongahela House for a few days. He has been consorting mysteriously with Pittsburg politicians and moneyed men who desire to see Governor Foraker "get there." Colonel Conger figures in the bitter Ohio fight as Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committional Republican Committee. He was joined by his wite yesterday, and left for Washington on the limited last evening. Colonel Conger is a veteran politician, and his views of the Ohio situation will prove of general interest. Prior to his departure for the Masonic Mecca he said to a DISPATCH representative: "There is not the slightest doubt in my mind as to how the Ohio Gubernatorial con-test will end. Foraker will be elected and by a large majority. I am the more certain of the result for the reason that Campbell is on the ticket against Foraker. I shall be very curious to know how Campbell will stuffing' episode of some years back, when dealing with the politics of his party, as he must during the campaign. His principal supporters are among those who were con-cerned with him at the time I altude to, and mith their support alone he has not the smallest chance. The only hope for the Democrats is in his withdrawing his name from the ticket, for the higher-toned and more respectable members of the party (as, for example, the Thurmanites) are altogether antagonistic to him. This means a split in the ranks of our opponents, of which we shall, of course, take every advantage. With regard to the fight for the Legislature, everything looks very encouraging. We expect to win all along the line; we are entirely united, and look to the result with the greatest confidence.

BIG GUNS TO ORATE. Senator Sherman, Butterworth, Mc-Kinley and half a dozen more strong speakers will enter the fight very shortly, speakers will enter the fight very shortly, and they may be depended upon to prove G. Moore has my heartfelt thanks and best equal to the emergency."

"Has your visit here anything to do with the acquisition of funds for the furtherance of the campaign?"

"No, I am here to look after business matters; to close some deals for my metal interests. I know that Pittsburgers take a great interest in Ohio political affairs, and of course, if any funds were handed in for the purpose of the campaign, we should not refuse them. I am not aware, however, without information on that point. You must not suppose that the campaign will be one of money. It may be a close campaign, but the fight will be won on its merits, and although money is required for necessary expenditure, such as in the distribution of documents, of which we are sending out very large quantities, the question of boodle will not enter into it. FULLY INFORMED UPON ISSUES. "We are taking care that the people shall be rightly informed upon questions of the day, and with a proper representation of facts before them we have no fear for the Chicogo, and in this connection said: "The question of its site, as you know, will be decided by Congress. While representatives from the Eastern States and Philadelphia may favor New York, members from Pittsburg and the Western States will cast their vote in favor of Chicago. For every reason that city should have the fair. The people have the money and the requisite push to carry through such an undertaking for an undertaking of large size it will be; they have the space, accommodations and railroad facilities, and are well situated. Visitors from across the water will be at forded an opportunity of seeing the country, and there is the probability of their making the return tour through the Southern States, whose Representatives in Congress will no doubt be influenced by the possible increase in trade and traffic, and opening up of their country, to vote for Chicago. I think that city will have the big show, and I hope so." Speaking of the steel trade, Mr. Conger said that prices would, he thought, take an upward tendency. The outlook for trade was particularly good, and he feared that anyone who had not closed contracts by this would be badly left. It is very important in this age of vast ma-terial progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

HENBY TERHEVDEN, at the old established jewelry house, No. 530 Smithfield st., is now opening for the fall trade a fine selection of goods, consisting in part of Mexican onyx tables at $20, $22, $24, $26, $30, $35, $40, $50, $60. Special Nervous Diseases

How little the average man knows and appreciates the suffering entailed on woman. She may look the picture of health, fine complexion and in full flesh. In no dis-ease, uncomplicated, are appearances so deceptive-and it is for this reason her sufferings are underrated. It is eminently a deceptive disease. The chief agent of this deception is the great sympathetic nerve. Pains, as a rule, are felt at the extremity or nerve terminations. The result is burning on back and top of the head, soreness, a feeling of weight or pressure, and throb-bing; a sensation as though the back would break in two; dragging sensations on stand-ing or exertion; pain over heart; palpita-tions; limbs feel like lead, and at times pain tions; limbs feel like lead, and at times pain in the knee and instep; flushing, easily startled, and most excessively nervous; sinking or felling away—called fainting spells—and finally, in aggravated cases, confined to bed, and in other eases sleeplessness. Thousands of women are constantly being treated for neuralgia, nervous prostration, spinal disease and paralysis, vainly, because the true seat of the trouble has been overlooked.

has been overlooked. Few women suffer from these troubles but tee, and is also Ohio's member of the Nasensations. In appearance then such a case may be the picture of health, but in extent of suffering, language could not depict it too strongly. Is such a disease common? I said in a former Dispatch article that 20 per cent of adults suffer from dyspepsia. In this plague to the sex three-fourths are doomed to its tortures. It is alarmingly common. Imagine then the amount of suffering entailed on women.

This treatment is not only mild and most effective, but a point of equal importance it can be conducted as effectively by letter as in town. In other words, ladies can treat themselves. Dr. Moore has given this subject special attention for about 14 years.

Dr. S. G. Moore, 34 Arch st., Allegheny, Pa.: KIND SIR-Eleven years ago I was so run down and prostrated by this disease, and having failed to obtain relief from some of the best doctors in this Co., I determined to consult you, having heard that you confined yourself exclusively to the treatment of nervous and chronic diseases. In 1878, 11 years ago, as you will see by your case book, I applied to you, being at that time most thoroughly discouraged mentally and prostrated bodily. What can I say strong enough to express my gratitude as to the results? I followed your treatment nine months and obtained what I feared I never should regain—health. It is only after the loss of it that one most fully appreciates health-it is truly beyond price. It is now over 10 years since your treatment, and I have had no return of that dreaded disease wishes for his future success. MRS. SOPHIA STOUT.

Nervous Prestrution. Dr. S. G. Moore, 34 Arch st., Allegheny, Pa.: DEAR SIR-Five years ago I consulted you for the above ailments, from which I had been a great sufferer for over four years Your treatment in my case has been very successful. That distressing aching and pain in my side, the weak spells and ex-hausted feelings have left me and I may that suggestions of this kind have been made to party managers here. If so I should probably have heard of it, and I am for years. I can heartily recommend Dr. Moore, not only as being skillful in his spe-cialty, chronic diseases, but also as a kind Christian gentleman, and one worthy the confidence of the afflicted. MRS. MARY A. SHIRA. 219 Liberty st., New Castle, Pa. The Fur Business of This City

Has grown wonderfully of late years and with this increase the house of C. A. Smiley & Co. has kept well in advance. The pres ent season finds them busier than ever and their factory well filled with orders. A department is given over entirely to the repairing and refreshing of seal garments, Mr. Conger had a word to say regarding and the successful manner in which it is done is talked about among ladies having work of the kind. There are no misfits, and complaints about the work are never heard.

A sacque made over is sure to bring others and to this they attribute their great success FOR NEW SEAL GARMENTS. They have said so much about the imposbility of buying made-up goods that here only a word is needed. STOCK SACQUES WON'T FIT, as expensive articles like these ought to, and a garment made to order at this hous is sure to, and the cost is likely to be a little about this fur establishment and you will go no other place to have your furs repaired or made over, and it you want a new sacque or wrap to get perfect fitting and positive satisfaction try no other. C. A. SMILEY & Co.,
